BREED THEATER. A Ranchman's Daughter, Today's

Western Thriller. Today at the Breed is sure to be a day of pleasure for all, for unusually strong dramatic films are mingled with the best of comedy, and the result is one of the happiest combinations of the year. The head liner is the snap-my western story, full of thrills and art-throbs, entitled The Ranchman's Jose, a handsome young Mexican wite has abandoned his wife, tried to make love to pretty Rose, daughter of the ranch owner. Now Rose was en-brave and his trigger finger quick-facts which he demonstrated when he found Jose hoasting about a picture of Rose that he said she had given other in the swift development of the plot, and in the end Rose had the pleature of saving her lover from be-shows just what our army is made of: heart lungs, eyes and ears must be in perfect condition, the applicant must be able to read and write, and his past is carefully investigated, to prevent any criminals being enlisted.

I DETRY THE BLIND MEN AND THE ELE-PHANT.

It was six men of Indestan,
To learning much inclined,
Who went to see the Elephant
(Though all of them were blind),
That each by observation
Might satisfy his mind.

The First approached the Elephans
And, happening to fall
Against his broad and stordy side,
At once began to bawl:
"God bless me! But the Elephant
Is very like a wall!"

The Second, feeling of the tusk.

Cried: "Ho! what have we here
So very round and smooth and sharp!

To me 'iis mighty clear
This wonder of an Elephant
Is very like a spear."

The Third approached the animal,
And, happening to take
The squirming trunk within his hands,
Thus holdly up and spake:
"I see," quoth he, "the Elephant
Is very like a snake!"

The Fourth reached out his eager hand
And felt shout the knee.
"What meat this wondrous beast is like
Is mighty plain," quoth he.
"Tis clear enough the Klephant
Is very like a tree!" The Fifth, who chanced to touch the Said 'D'en the blindest man Can tell what this resembles most, Deny the fact who can, This marvel of an Elephant is very like a fan!"

The Sixth no sooner had begun
About the heast to grope
Than seizing on the swinging tail
That fell within his scope
'I see,' quoth he, "the Elephant
Is very like a rope!" And so these men of Indestan Disputed foud and long.
Each in his own opinion
Exceeding stiff and strong.
Though each was partly in the right
And all were in the wrong!
